SWEEPING VICTORY FOR JEROME

Predicted in Spite of Bold Scheme to Defeat Him.

CLAIMS VOTE WILL OUTNUMBER
TOTAL OF ALL OPPONENTS

Unparalleled Campaign of Hearst Makes Outcome of Election Most Uncertain in History of New York.

New York, Nov. 6.—District Attorney Jerome at the final rally of his supporters in Cooper Union tonight made a sensation when on reaching the platform he exhibited a plate from which, he said, he had just discovered circulars were about to be printed purporting to be issued by the nominators and containing directions for voting for himself, which, it follows, would have invalidated practically all the ballots cast for him. The city, he said, was to have been flooded tonight with these circulars, but the plot was revealed to him by the exposure in the printing office in time to stop their issue.

The circulars bore fac-similes of the republican and jumbo ballots and directed voters to place their cross at the top of each ballot, instead of at the top of the republican ballot, and in the space beside Jerome's name on the other, as has been directed in all the instructions previously sent out.

Exhibiting the plate, Mr. Jerome said: "I got this because there was a good honest man in the 'rinders' shop, who brought it to me when he found what it was. When I got there, the press was waiting to turn out thousands of these circulars signed 'Jerome Nominators,' advising the electors to vote in such a way as to have every ballot cast for me void. I did not do a thing but stop them. It means one last desperate effort of the bosses. If the republican ticket is elected or the municipal ownership or democratic ticket they keep running the campaign in a way, but if I am elected—your candidate put in nomination by you over the heads of them all—it means a revolution. It means that the people once more will take into their own hands the powers that rightfully belong to them."

Addresses were made by R. Fulton Cutting, Rev. Dr. Slicer and others.

CHAIRMAN ALLEGES JEROME WILL BEAT COMBINED VOTE
New York, Nov. 6.—John A. Henneberry, chairman of Mr. Jerome's campaign committee, issued a statement tonight predicting the triumphant return of the candidate by a greater total number of votes than those of all of his opponents. Mr. Jerome made his final speech at the Cooper Union before a great audience in Cooper Union tonight.

An almost unprecedented degree of uncertainty regarding the result of the final conflict which will be chosen to mark the close of what has been in many respects the most interesting political campaign ever waged in the city of New York. Whether Mr. Jerome will be elected or whether the combined vote of the republican and jumbo tickets will prevail, the destinies of the metropolis for the next four years presents a problem, which in the face of conditions absolutely unique, baffles the skill of even the most experienced forecasters of election results.

This is due to complications arising from the appearance in the field of a new and formidable element represented by the Municipal Ownership league, which under the leadership of William Randolph Hearst has carried a degree of strength that has been the subject of general amazement. The Hearst campaign culminated last night in a monster meeting at Madison Square garden, which was marked by an unparalleled display of enthusiasm, supporters of the candidate to the number of 20,000 being unable to gain admission to the hall. Simultaneously another great meeting of almost equal dimensions held in the Hippodrome, testified to the strength of the following of Mayor McClellan.

Tonight the managers of the three majority candidates declare themselves to be absolutely assured of victory tomorrow.

Betting Unusually Slack.
Of betting on the result there has been considerably less than in former years, due apparently to the general feeling of uncertainty and to the indications that the result may be very close. In Wall street this afternoon the odds ended 2 to 1 on McClellan, at which price a prominent broker offered to wager $100 to $50,000. The same broker placed a bet of $25,000 to $10,000 on the mayor. Bets on Evans ruled about 1 to 5 and on Hearst 1 to 25. Odds on the election of Jerome were about the same as on McClellan, and many large sums were wagered by supporters of the district attorney, whose meteoric career has been one of the most spectacular features of the campaign.

Rumors of colonization on a large scale and of illegal registration have so far played a minor part in the campaign, but tonight State Superintendent Morgan issued a statement declaring that fraudulent schemes had been discovered of greater magnitude than the records of his office showed to have existed before, and that he had taken radical steps to prevent this illegal voting. A large number of warrants, greatly in excess of those at first called for, Mr. Morgan said, had been secured and would be served by a newly established "secret service" corps of his office, composed of deputies unknown to the other deputies of his force.

CHICAGO ELECTION WILL BE A QUIET AFFAIR

Chicago, Nov. 6.—Election day in Illinois tomorrow promises to be a quiet one as party lines have not been drawn very closely during the campaign and the indications tonight are that not over one-half the regular number of ballots will be polled. A member of congress is to be elected in the Fourteenth district to succeed Benjamin F. Marsh, who died last summer, and commissioners will be elected in thirteen counties not under township organization. In Chicago five judges of the superior court, one judge of the circuit court and a president and nine members of the sanitary district are to be chosen.

BITTER FIGHT IN SAN FRANCISCO COMES TO END

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 6.—Tonight closed one of the most bitterly fought municipal campaigns this city has witnessed for many years. In the effort to defeat the election of Mayor Eugene E. Schmitz, the Union Labor candidate to a third term, the democratic and republican parties have put a fusion ticket in the field headed by John S. Partridge, who is assistant city attorney.

Mayor Schmitz's adherents now declare that his following has sufficiently increased to overcome the fusion combination against him. It is the general belief that a majority of the fusion candidates will be elected. The campaign ended tonight with a union parade and a mass meeting.

WILL LET G. O. P. HAVE FOUR IN MASSACHUSETTS

Boston, Nov. 6.—Massachusetts will elect state officers tomorrow. The republican party claims the election of Lieutenant Governor Curtis Guild, Jr., for governor over Charles W. Bartlett, the democratic nominee by a large plurality and while predicting also the election of Eben S. Draper, their nominee for lieutenant governor, admit that his plurality will fall behind that given to Mr. Guild. The democrats go as far as to claim the election of Henry M. Whitney, their nominee for second place, by a large plurality, and express confidence in the choice of Mr. Bartlett by an emphatic endorsement. The four other places on the ticket are generally conceded to the republicans.

HEAVY VOTE LOOKED FOR IN INDIANAPOLIS

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 6.—Leaders of both republican and democratic parties tonight express confidence in the outcome of the election tomorrow. A heavy vote is looked for. It is estimated that more than $200,000 has been wagered on the result, with the odds firm at 2 to 1 in favor of Mr. Bookwalter, republican candidate for mayor. While the result in eleven precincts where voting machines are to be used will be known early tomorrow evening it is not expected the results in the districts will accurately forecast the outcome.

DEMOCRATS CLAIM 20,000 MAJORITY IN VIRGINIA

Richmond, Va., Nov. 6.—One hundred and fifty thousand votes are expected to be cast in the state tomorrow when a full state ticket, members of the general assembly and county and city officers are elected. These are the figures given out by representatives of the leaders and nominees of both the democratic and republican parties. Some few over-zealous inquirers in the belief that the total vote will exceed that figure, Democratic, republican, socialist and socialist-labor tickets are in the field. It is a foregone conclusion that the entire democratic ticket will be elected, that party claiming a majority of 20,000.

STORM CENTER OF ANARCHY SHIFTS TO CAUCASUS

Armed Rioters Wreck Rail-
Roads and Telegraph Lines

MORE TERRIFYING NEWS
FROM BURNING KISHINEFF

London, Nov. 6.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Daily Mail says:

"War, hopeless war, prevails in the Caucasus. The Trans-Caucasian, the sole line, is effectively crippled, and reinforcements have been compelled to march. Seventeen bridges have been wrecked, and the rails have been torn up in forty places. Telegraph lines have been destroyed and Georgia and Daghestan are isolated. Every male is in arms, and the war office is helpless."

The Bucharest correspondent of the Daily Mail sends the following:

"There is terrifying news still from Kishineff. The city is strewn with dead. An unwieldy provisional government has been established. Families reign throughout Bessarabia, and the Jews are taking refuge in cellars, where they are dying by the wholesale."

"A mob of a thousand rioters engaged in a massacre of Jews in Ismailia, Bessarabia, and a force of Dragoons arriving from Bender fired on the mob, killing 42 and wounding 114 persons. The Bessarabian revolt is assuming immense proportions."

GENERAL SITUATION IS SLIGHTLY IMPROVED

St. Petersburg, Nov. 6.—The appointment of Count Witte as president of the council of ministers is announced this morning. Reports received from many points indicate that the situation throughout the Russian provinces is improving. The first train out of Odessa since the disorders arrived yesterday at St. Petersburg, having taken thirteen days to accomplish the journey.

The struggle for autonomy in Poland has been renewed and flags flying from many buildings preliminary to further action.

Count Witte is having trouble organizing his new cabinet, and has taken up his residence in the palace in St. Petersburg so that he may be at the emperor's elbow when his majesty returns, which is expected to be very soon.

The text of the imperial manifesto concerning Finland has been made public and has caused great rejoicing in Helsinki and other cities of Finland.

Dispatches to the London morning papers tell of great stress in Kishineff, in the Caucasus, and other places that have been centers of the disorders.

ODESSA'S TRADE MENACED WITH UTTER RUIN

Odessa, Nov. 6.—Fresh disorders were reported at 5 o'clock this evening in the suburb of Danila Melnitski. Troops have been dispatched there. The theatre of the town of Akermann, near Odessa, is in flames. The governor general has requested the editors of all local newspapers to refrain from publishing the happenings of last week, in order to avoid inflaming the public. The editors agreed to the governor general's request. The Odessa papers will appear tomorrow after a nine days' strike. The anti-Semitic disturbances are reported from all outlying districts. The peasants are greatly excited, and are urged on by agitators from Odessa. Troops have been dispatched to the disturbed districts. The president of the board of trade has telegraphed to the minister of finance urgently requesting him to prolong the payment of liabilities for six months and to order the state bank not to shorten the credit of merchants and to facilitate the rediscounting of the bills of private banks and banking houses. The president implores the minister to send a quick answer, as a refusal will entail commercial distress.

In view of the devastation of almost all Jewish factories, the trade of Odessa is threatened with complete ruin and wholesale bankruptcies are feared, involving the international credit of Russia.

Some of the banks and all the shops have re-opened and the streets are being cleared of debris. It is claimed in some quarters here that the estimates of as high as 2,000 killed and 10,000 wounded are exaggerations.

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE WEAKENS HERRICK VOTE

Columbus, O., Nov. 6.—On the eve of the election the indications point to a remarkably heavy vote. Successors to the present republican incumbents as governor, lieutenant governor, attorney general, state treasurer, justice of the supreme court and member of the board of public works are to be chosen and also members of both houses of legislature and officials of the leading cities. The campaign against the re-election of Governor Herrick began months before his nomination and has been carried on so vigorously by the anti-saloon league that many Sunday night sermons became political addresses, the speaking campaign not being ended when the party organization meetings closed Saturday night. That there are defections from Herrick the republican managers admit, but they claim that enough new adherents have been secured almost to balance the loss.

IRONWORKERS OUT IN NEW YORK CITY

New York, Nov. 6.—Structural iron workers in fifty buildings in this section by Post and McCord, contractors, went on strike today in obedience to the order voted by their locals and in support of the general strike directed by the international organization against the American Bridge company.

Post and McCord are accused of acting as agents for the American Bridge company. Fifteen thousand men of various trades are thrown out of employment by the local strike. All strikers were immediately ordered back to work by the general arbitration board of the building trades employers' association today.

The feeling remains unsettled.

ANDREWS DOES ONE MORE MURDER AND SUICIDES

Slayer of Bessie Bouton
Ends Life of Crime.

LAST DEED WAS SHOOTING OF HIS PARAMOUR

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 6.—Milton Franklin Andrews, wanted for the sensational murder of Bessie Bouton at Colorado Springs, tonight shot and killed his female companion, Nulda Olivia, and then killed himself.

Andrews was wanted for a murderous assault on William Ellis at Berkeley, Cal. The police located the couple at 748 McAllister street, in this city, and when they were about to enter the house tonight, Andrews killed the woman and ended his own life.

A little over a month ago Andrews and the woman arrived here on a steamer from Australia. On the voyage they formed the acquaintance of William Ellis, a horseman, who was coming to California to attend the winter racing. Ellis was known to have considerable money in his possession. Friendly relations were established and when Andrews and the woman engaged a cottage at Berkeley they invited him to luncheon.

During the meal Ellis was struck in the head with a hammer and the woman fired a couple of shots at him, but they missed their mark. Ellis managed to escape and notified the police. A search of the cottage showed that the pair had made complete preparations for disposing of Ellis' body. Implements for dismembering the corpse, acids for mutilation and large pieces of oil cloth for preventing bloodstains were discovered. The couple fled immediately after Ellis' escape and were not located until tonight. Photographs of Andrews were obtained and he was positively identified as the man who was the friend of Bessie Bouton, of Syracuse, N. Y., who was murdered at Colorado Springs, about ten months ago.

ELECTION MAY TURN INTO RIOT

In Ancient Graft-Ridden
Quaker City.

WEAVER DECLARES CITY'S
PEACE MUST BE PRESERVED

Mayor Issues Proclamation Branding
Sheriff as Head of Criminal Combination and Takes Charge of the Police.

Philadelphia, Nov. 6.—The eve of the day toward which Philadelphia has been looking for six months to decide whether the municipal affairs of the city shall continue to be conducted as they have been in the past, or whether a new order of things shall obtain, finds the situation so tense that no Philadelphian will be surprised tomorrow if the peace of the city is seriously disturbed.

Matters reached a critical stage today when the mayor of the city and sheriff of the county, both of whom are leaders in their respective parties, issued antagonistic proclamations swearing to uphold the law and protect citizens against the illegal ballots of the opposing side. The sheriff in his proclamation calls upon the citizens to assist the deputies appointed by him to uphold the law, and the mayor replies in a strongly worded proclamation in which he says:

"The peace of the city, the supremacy of the law and the blood-bought rights of honest electors must and shall be preserved.

For the moment the question of majorities has been lost sight of. Backing up his proclamation, the mayor has sworn in about 1,000 special policemen for election duty. The sheriff says he will not appoint deputies and that the peace of the city rests with the mayor.

The proclamation of Sheriff James L. Miles, who is republican leader of the Thirteenth ward and chairman of the city committee on elections, was broadcast in Philadelphia. As soon as Mayor Weaver learned of it, he consulted with his advisers and this afternoon he issued a proclamation which was as unusual as the one drafted by the sheriff. The mayor in his proclamation says:

"It has become public knowledge that certain conspirators against the public peace and welfare are planning unlawful acts in connection with the election tomorrow. Of this criminal combination James L. Miles is the official head, and, ostensibly in his office as sheriff, by a proclamation, said that he intends to appoint special deputies at the polling places of this city."

"I am informed that the sheriff of the county in his capacity as leader of the lawless combination referred to, has been in consultation with law-breakers and the enemies of law and order for the purpose of devising some means for the prevention of an honest ballot and free expression of the popular will at the election to be held tomorrow. This object they hope to effect by having him, as sheriff, commission so-called deputies to perform services at the polling places in defiance of the expressed prohibition of the law."

The proclamation further declares that "the action of James L. Miles constitutes such a menace to the public peace that I deem it my duty as mayor of the city to proclaim that his lawless announcement, ostensibly as sheriff is an election scheme, and that by reason of this lawless purpose an emergency exists, and that I therefore, I, John Weaver, mayor of Philadelphia, will by virtue of the authority vested in me by the laws of the commonwealth, take command of the police force of this city and in conjunction with Sheriff Potter, director of the department of public safety, appoint as many special patrolmen as I may deem advisable in addition to the regular police force, to protect law-abiding citizens in the exercise of their elective franchise, and honest election officers in performance of their duties."

The proclamation in concluding says: "I hereby warn any person from attempting to exercise the functions or power of deputy sheriffs at the polls, and I particularly and especially warn James L. Miles, high sheriff of the county of Philadelphia, proscribing him as a lawbreaker, and that I will, as mayor of the city, against appointing or commissioning any person to act as deputy sheriff at the polls."

"As all such persons appointed by him under such circumstances are lawbreakers, they ought to be and will be treated accordingly. The peace of the city, the supremacy of the law and the blood-bought rights of honest electors must and shall be preserved."

Subsequent to the mayor's proclamation Sheriff Miles issued a statement, saying:

"I will not reply to the vicious attacks and personal abuse of the mayor, but I will say no deputies have been appointed by me for the election that I will appoint none and that I have never seriously considered such a thing."

He preferred, he said, to place the whole responsibility for the preservation of the peace on the mayor, where it belongs.

PRINCE SEES TOMB OF WASHINGTON

Louis Bares Head at Grave of Father of His Country.

GUEST AT INFORMAL
WHITE HOUSE LUNCHEON

Battenberg on Departure for Annapolis Expresses Deep Appreciation of Cordiality of the President.

Washington, Nov. 6.—Honored by the president by an invitation to luncheon informally at the White House, Rear Admiral Prince Louis of Battenberg kept his special train waiting three-quarters of an hour this afternoon while the president engaged him in a long personal conversation.

The White House luncheon was not on the program and was an entirely personal compliment to Admiral Prince Louis and his royal nephew, Prince Alexander, midshipman on the Drake. In the morning Prince Louis visited Mount Vernon, making the trip down the Potomac river on the United States dispatch boat Dolphin, commanded by Commander John Gibbons, who will soon go to the British capital as naval attaché of the American embassy. On board the Dolphin was a party of about fifty, including Rear Admirals Evans and Brownson, Rear Admiral Capps, chief constructor of the navy and the commanding officers of the British squadron, Flinders the pennants of Rear Admiral Prince Louis and Rear Admiral Evans the Dolphin got under way promptly at 9 o'clock. At Mount Vernon the party was met at the landing by the secretaries of the grounds who conducted them through the home of the first president. As they came to the tomb each person bowed his head while Prince Louis went up to the republic and reverently stood in silence for a few minutes. Upon leaving Mount Vernon the prince was presented with an ivy plant, a sprout from the plant which grew about the tomb of Washington.

In order to reach the White House for luncheon, the prince made the return trip on a special trolley car accompanied by his flag lieutenant and Rear Admiral Brownson.

The prince went first to the British embassy to take leave of the British ambassador and Lady Durant whose guest he has been, and a few minutes later accompanied by his nephew, Prince Alexander, went to the White House where they were personal guests of the president and Mrs. Roosevelt at an informal luncheon. Nothing has pleased the two distinguished visitors more than their arrival in this country than the two hours and a half they spent with the president and his family this afternoon. The president is sending to the king a return present in the form of a letter from Admiral Prince Louis which will be delivered when the prince next visits London.

From the White House the two princes rode to the Arlington Hotel, a mobile where they were joined by the other British officers and Rear Admirals Evans and Brownson and left on a special train for Annapolis at 3:15 o'clock.

Before his departure for Annapolis Prince Louis made a statement in which he expressed his appreciation of the "courtesy, cordiality and consideration" of the president and the president, members of the cabinet and officers of the navy and army, and declared that he was much impressed with the American fleet.

Forty-five British officers who have been the guests of the American navy for several days' visit at the Arlington hotel, also left for Annapolis this afternoon.

PRINCE AND PARTY GUESTS OF ADMIRAL SANDS
Annapolis, Md., Nov. 6.—Prince Louis of Battenberg returned today from Washington, where he has been since Saturday. The prince and party were driven to the naval academy ground, where they were received by a company of marines and the naval academy band. They were then taken to the officers' mess and remained until the time for the dinner given by Admiral Sands, superintendent of the academy. This was the most notable social event of the stay of the fleets in this harbor, the guests being limited to the admirals and captains of the fleet and one or two others. Governor Warfield and Adjutant General Clinton L. Riggs were the only non-naval guests.

ATTEMPT TO DYNAMITE SOUTHERN PACIFIC TRAIN
Terrible explosion blows wheels off engine but does no serious damage.

Santa Barbara, Cal., Nov. 6.—An attempt was made to wreck the second section of passenger train No. 9 north-bound, on the Southern Pacific, about midnight last night at the Los Alamos bridge, six miles beyond Santa Barbara, a stick of dynamite had been placed on the track and when the engine struck it there was a terrific explosion. The pilot and wheels of the engine were blown completely off, but the engine did not leave the track and no one was injured.

Railroad officials believe it was an attempt to wreck and perhaps to rob the train and are working on that theory to apprehend the guilty persons.

To Avoid Extradition.

New York, Nov. 6.—William Howard and Louis Crawford, the young men arrested here last week, accused of throwing the dismembered body of Susan Geary into Boston harbor, were arraigned in police court today and bound to await extradition papers from Boston.
